This pre-packaged program consists of three parts and is designed to be presented by local presenters with a personal connection to their local community.

- Part one is designed to be presented by someone in the healthcare field, ideally a doctor, nurse, or EMT. This presentation highlights the very real dangers of alcohol abuse rampant in our communities, high schools and colleges.

- Part two is designed to be presented by a local law enforcement officer, police officer, sheriff's deputy, or trooper. This presentation highlights the consequences of underage drinking, social hosting, and drinking and driving.

- Part three is designed to be presented by a current or previous student, school counselor or advocate. This presentation highlights the very real dangers and consequences of driving while distracted.

All three presentations come with a script for the presenter to follow to help get their message across to our young people.
